Trustees Approve Architect's Plan For Sewage Plant

Petition for Soo Crossing to Be Sent Soon to Commission

Approval of the plans of Architect David R. Miller for the sewage disposal plant was given last evening by the Village board of trustees and the plans have been submitted to the state officials for approval.

The plant will cost an estimated $28,811, according to proposed plans which list the main items as follows:

Trickling filter, $1,010; pump house and equipment, $6,500; final settling tank, $1,621; outside grounds, $2,300, and alteration to Imhoff tank and grading, $625. The rest is for engineering fees and incidentals.

Village Attorney McGaughy said that he has prepared a petition which will be carried before the Illinois State Commerce commission soon asking a crossing over the Soo line tracks to the city's 374 acres which will be used some day for a park.

Crossing Eliminated

A representative of the railroad said that the original crossing flooring has been out more than 10 years and that under the law the railroad is no longer obligated to regard the place as a crossing and replace the flooring.

The board was notified by the I. C. C. that the Northern Limited, Inc., a bus company, has applied for a certificate of public convenience to extend its line from the Wisconsin state line to Chicago over Rte. 21.

The company now operates from Waukesha, Wis., to the state line and deadheads from that point south. It now wants to pick up passengers into Chicago.

The State Planning commission notified the board that because some cities and villages did not use their share of the postwar planning money provided by the state, those who had applied can get more and $177 has been allotted to Antioch.

Dr. Jensen to Attend Veterinary Conference at U. of I. This Week

Dr. G. W. Jensen will attend the Twenty-seventh Annual Veterinary conference at the University of Illinois Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

He is among 200 leading veterinarians of Illinois who will attend the conference in obtaining postgraduate training in the latest developments in the treatment, control and eradication of diseases not only restricted to animals, but transmissible to man.

The University's College of Medicine will cooperate in the program and the last day of the conference will be spent at the medical college.

Dr. Sigurd Ullestad of Oslo, Norway, who has come to the United States to study American procedures in veterinary science and clinical practice, will accompany Dr. Jensen to the meetings.

Dr. Jensen Will Enlarge Service Station Soon

Dr. G. W. Jensen was granted permission by the village board last evening to erect an addition to his service station at the intersection of Rtes. 173 and 21 at a cost of $10,000. His representative said that approval has been given by the OPA and that all of the materials have been obtained except some overhead doors. The work will be completed in March. The addition will be 30 feet in the direction of the school and 14 feet to the west.

Numerous Fires Mar First Days of Fire Prevention Week

This is fire prevention week but that didn't prevent the Antioch fire department having the busiest week of the year.

Eight calls have been received since Oct. 5, most of which were grass fires. On the fifth, the department was first called to Lake Shangri-la and next to the Otis Hotel property to prevent the spread of fire in grass.

The department went to the aid of the Bristol department that day also in putting out a grass fire that had burned four or five days and had covered several square miles of grassland and swamp at Lake George.

On Oct. 6, the department was called to the farm of Dr. William H. Kenner on North Ave., one-half mile east of the village limits where a new barn worth $12,000 was destroyed. Hay feed, and grain consumed by the blaze are expected to bring the total loss approximately $25,000.

There were 30 tons of baled hay, 30 tons of baled straw and several thousand bushels of grain. Mystery surrounds the starting of the blaze which was discovered at 1:30 a. m. the persons on the farm tried to extinguish the blaze alone but failed.

The department was called back to the farm at 10 a. m. that day to put out a grass fire which started from sparks from the burning building.

At 2 p. m. the department received its third call, rushing to the Robert Black farm in Newport township where a large barn was already burning fiercely. The barn and contents were a total loss, an estimated value of $12,000. The fire is believed to have started from a trash fire nearby.

Last Tuesday there were two grass fires, one at the farm of Dr. William P. Tague on Rte. 173 and the other at the home of Ernest Aftolter, Loon Lake.

A call at 10:00 a. m. this morning was caused by a rubbish fire getting out of hand at Loon Lake.

Burning grass along the Soo Line right of way threatened buildings. The fire was quickly brought under control and no damage resulted.

Chief Clete Vos warns that because of the dryness of materials and the lack of rain, it is necessary that the greatest of precaution be taken at this time. Grass and rubbish fires easily get out of hand.

Coot Hunting Dwindles as State Season Closes; Wisconsin Season Opens

The roar of guns set off at the opening of the coot season last week died to almost silence this week as hunters found the game more scarce as the time progressed.

The first day's firing cleaned out most of the birds and since then the weather has been such that the mudhens, a name by which coots are also known, have remained in hiding.

In Wisconsin where the season is now open for ducks, hunters are finding a plentiful supply of mallards and ringnecks. Coot also are plentiful. Many of the ducks killed were in the Fox river region just across the state line from Lake county in Kenosha county.

Coot hunting season will remain open here until Sunday when it will be closed until Oct. 26. Then for 45 days ducks and mudhens both may be shot. Illinois hunters hope that Wisconsin hunters haven't intercepted all of them, but with the warm weather ducks haven't been flying as yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hostetter and son, Charles, Jr., and Mrs. Nellie Hanke and son, Leslie, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Oran Hostetter at Whittemore, Mich., over the weekend, returning home Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Gaston, of Ottawa, Illinois, spent the weekend with Mrs. Homer B. Gaston.

Lake Villa Club's Big Brother Day to Be Annual Event

Thirty-five 'Teen Agers Participate; 250 Attend Banquet

So successful was the Big Brother Day under the auspices of the Lake Villa Community Men's club that it will become an annual event. Dr. Calvin P. Midgley, chairman said, "Inspiring" was the word that characterized the reports of the day's events as made at a banquet Tuesday night. Thirty-five students of both Lake Villa and Antioch accompanied business and professional men of the area on their day's rounds and then were guests of the club at the banquet attended by 250 persons at the school gymnasium in Lake Villa.

Ray Moore, head of the Lake Forest High school, gave the principal address. He told of his trip with some students to Estes Park, Colo., and his experience in showing them the increasing beauty of the Rocky Mountain ranges as they went farther west. From this illustration he told the students at the banquet that there were greater experiences ahead for them and that since they have not yet met them, they must rely upon the advice and suggestion of those who had the experience, and not try to form judgment on their own limited views.

T. R. Birkhead, principal of the Antioch High school, complimented the club on its achievement and pictured the results of the day's activities.

The Rev. Ray Pierson gave a reading and sang, and a one-act skit was produced by Arthur Pierson, Richard Lynn, Dr. C. P. Midgley, and Harry Pazel.

The club plans to operate next year's event on a merit system whereby those students who have the most points get to choose the business man who will accompany for the day. They will not be privileged to repeat a previous experience.

The club is planning a "Kamera Club" with divisions known as Kids, Kubs, and Kronies. A nature study group will be formed later.

Lauterback Addresses Future Farmers Tues. at Woodstock Meeting

Newly elected officers of the Antioch High school chapter of the Future Farmers of America and chapter advisor, C. L. Kutil, attended the officers Training school and Annual banquet at Woodstock, Ill., Tuesday afternoon and evening.

The afternoon was devoted to group sessions and a general session on officer training and program planning.

C. L. Kutil, agriculture instructor of Antioch, spoke on the subject "Planning the Annual Program of Work."

A. H. Lauterbach, manager of the Pure Milk Association of Chicago, spoke at the banquet in the evening. Approximately 140 Future Farmers attended from 22 high schools in northern Illinois.

The banquet was presided over by Mr. Kutil, program chairman of this year's banquet. Marvin Wirtz, of Volvo, sectional vice-president presided during the afternoon sessions.

Charles Leech, president of the Elgin Agricultural Fair and his committee were present to announce that they are to award several scholarships annually to deserving farm youth to Midwestern Universities. Kutil was appointed chairman of a committee to draw up a score card in selecting the candidates for such scholarships. Other members of his committee are John Shields, of Sugar Grove, principal and agriculture teacher; and John Schaff, principal and agriculture teacher of Plaio Center.

Students from Antioch who attended the school and banquet are: Benny Drury, Warren Wells, Logan Lundgren, Philip Burke and Ray Viberg.

A SIMPLE TRUTH

Addition Becomes Subtraction When 7,000 Bass Are Placed in Antioch Lake to Destroy Bluegills

Lions Club Will See Picture of Fishing in Chain O'Lakes Area

By placing 7,000 four-inch largemouth bass in Antioch lake last Saturday, the State Department of Conservation expects to have fewer fish in the lake.

This is not a misstatement nor a typographical error as Harry Novotny, state conservation officer will agree, but it may have mathematical puzzlement.

The fact is that the bass were placed in the lake to get rid of the over abundance of bluegills, minnows and shiners. There are in that lake millions of bluegills so starved for the lack of food that they have become degenerated transparent fingerlings, and the state wants to get rid of most of them. The bass will do the job.

Antioch lake was formed about ten years ago by damming a creek. It was stocked with bluegills by local men who brought fish from other lakes to spawn. In a year's time because of the plentiful supply of food the fish became almost giants for bluegills and they were taken out in large numbers.

Then the supply began to dwindle and in order to preserve it the lake was made a reserve.

Bluegills lay from 15,000 to 20,000 eggs a season and with no natural enemies, the lake became crowded with them in a few years. When the lake overflowed several years ago, about two million of them were caught and taken to other lakes.

But they kept on multiplying and as they did, food became scarcer and scarcer and the fish dwindled in size so that they degenerated into three-inch runts too small to be used, although an occasional large one is caught.

The bass are to come to the rescue. They will eat the small fish and in two years themselves will be big enough to eat. Planted 125 to an acre they are going to have plenty of food themselves and the bluegills will have a real enemy.

Dr. D. N. Deering, president of the Antioch Hot Stove Hunting and Fishing club and club members are interested in making Antioch lake a good fishing ground again. They figure that as the bass eat the little fish the rest will have more food and they will grow larger.

Novotny thinks it will be necessary to remove many millions more of the bluegills and as soon as he can get enough men to help he will seine the lake before next spring.

His problem, besides getting the help, is to find a lake that is depleted of bluegills for all lakes in the Chain O'Lakes region are now well stocked, and he doesn't want to destroy the seined bluegills.

The bass were brought here from the Spring Grove hatchery.

Lake Villa Veteran Made Sergeant at Fort Bliss

Sergeant Richard J. Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Peterson, of Lake Villa, has been promoted to the grade of Sergeant from Technician Fifth grade, in accordance with recent army orders issued by the Headquarters of the Anti-aircraft Artillery and Guided Missile Center here.

Forty persons have already registered for membership in the Antioch Camera club, and more are expected to signify their intention of joining. Registration is at the Walgreen drug store. The first meeting will take place in the first week of November.

Sgt. Peterson entered the service in July 1945 and is now serving with Battery A of the 88th AAA Gun Battalion here at Fort Bliss.

Simonsen Elected Pres. of Antioch Fire Dept. Tues.

Garland, Shultz, Veteran Officers, Re-elected as Treasurer, Secretary

Edgar Simonsen was elected president of the Antioch fire department Tuesday evening taking the place of Irving Elms, but other administrative officers were re-elected.

Clarence Shultz was re-elected secretary for the thirteenth time and George Garland started his twenty-sixth year as treasurer. Shultz was elected captain and Murrell Cunningham was re-elected lieutenant for the third time.

James Maplethorpe was elected delegate to the Lake County Firemen's association. Shultz is the outgoing member of the delegation and Barney Barnstable and Al Keulman are hold-overs for the three-year office.

Cunningham and Keulman were appointed by Chief Cletus Vos as delegates to the state convention of firemen Oct. 15, 16, and 17 at Quincy, Ill. L. R. Van Patten, Jr., and Edgar Simonsen are alternates.

A lengthy discussion took place concerning fire inspections and Chief Vos appointed Murrell Cunningham and James Maplethorpe permanent inspectors and instructed them to make inspections of schools, public buildings and business houses several times during the year.

The new officers will assume their duties at the regular meeting, Oct. 22.

The secretary's report shows that the department answered 73 calls during the fiscal year ending Sept. 30, with an average of 14 firemen answering each call. Sixteen calls were in the village, eight of which were grass fires and eight on property valued at $142,600 but with a loss of only $1,095.

Forty-seven calls were in the town ship. Twenty-seven of them were grass fires and the 20 others were on property valued at $73,000 on which there was a loss of $2,900. Five calls were in the village, eight of which were made in Salem township, three to Newport township and two to Lake Villa.

Sequoits to Clash With Bensenville There in Second Conference Tilt

Antioch gridmen will journey to Bensenville Saturday afternoon for the second conference football game this year. The game will start at 2:30 and will be the first daytime game for the Sequoits this season.

Coach Maurice Kruzan hopes to eliminate some of the weakness that slowed his team down to a 6 to 6 tie with the Barrington Bronchos here last Friday night.

It was an off night Friday for the Sequoits and their offensive blocking was completely lacking. Although Antioch completed five of her nine passes, they went for only 48 yards total, whereas Barrington netted 90 yards on three passes in four attempts.

Barrington also had eight first downs to Antioch's five. The Bronchos drew 50 yards of penalties in contract to 35 yards for the home team. Both teams averaged about the same on punts.

What Is Going to Happen at Reeves?

No, this not the $64 question, it's only a $10 one, but even this should be enough to provide much interest in the contest currently being conducted at Reeves Drug store.

What Makes The Black Market?

The Saturday Evening Post recently ran an extraordinarily graphic article entitled "Confessions of a Black-Market Butcher." The dodges used to circumvent the law are described in detail. In one instance, a local undertaking establishment and the undertaker's hearse were used to collect and handle illegal beef. The profits were enormous. To quote the anonymous author's own words, "I've cleared more in the last three years than my father, who owned the shop, made in thirty-five years.... I've been socking it away where the income-tax boys won't find it."

Legitimate meat dealers, he observes, such as the chain stores, honest independent merchants, and the old established packing houses sold meat at ceiling prices—when they could get meat. But their supply was nothing in the light of the demand. The black market was siphoning off the bulk of it. And in this connection the writer makes this extremely important observation: "You got a black market because the government didn't enforce price ceilings, and braintrusters who knew nothing about the business made dumb rules that encouraged breeders, packers, farmers and dealers like me to cheat."

That's worth thinking about, now that OPA ceilings on meat prices have been restored. The purpose of this article isn't to discuss the extremely intricate problem of what meat should and should not cost. It should be clear to everyone, however, that artificially low prices will result only in the emergence of the black market on its old-time scale. You can't police every store, every farmer, every village slaughterhouse. During the period when OPA meat controls were off, meat of all kinds appeared in abundance in legitimate outlets. Prices went up—at least in part because of the elimination of government subsidies—but buyer resistance was gradually controlling the rise. So was competition, with stores honestly competing against each other once more for consumer business.

The logical cure for the black market is adequate production, real and open competition among retailers, and the normal processes of supply and demand, backed by Federal economy and debt reduction.

Electrifying the Nation

The first national conference on farm electrification, November 7 to 8, has been called by a group of rural engineers aided by such organizations as the Edison Electric Institute and the National Electrical Manufacturers' Association, to brief the American farmer on ways and means of allowing electricity to work for him.

With the utility industry proceeding with one of its greatest expansion programs, it is important that new customers of electricity, as well as old, learn ways of using the magic power. Unless delayed by shortages of materials, the power industry aims to bring electricity to another 1,600,000 homes this year. Since the government-subsidized REA is electrifying only 20% of the 100,000 rural homes a month being added to the lines, the privately-financed electric industry is carrying the big load of expansion.

Rapid expansion is nothing new to electric power companies. The year 1942 showed a record 1,500,000 homes added. The power industry has always striven to extend the use of electricity in all fields. Through extensions in advance of demand and a constant lowering of rates, it has accomplished unequalled results. Built upon this foundation of experience, the industry which will bring electricity within the reach of almost all American farms by 1950.

The national conference is coming at an important time, as most of the 3,000,000 farms without electricity will be supplied before 1950. It will stimulate rural users to take full advantage of electric service to be offered them.

'Ike' Walton League Acts to Save State Wildlife; Fights Fire in Cottage

Pressure on congressmen from Illinois to defeat such flood control measures as would be useless and at the same time would destroy refuge places for wild life was exerted last weekend by members of the Izaak Walton League in convention at State Conservation school.

Resolutions dealing with the anti-pollution bill, the Kankakee swamps and the Illinois and Mississippi river basins were drawn up.

The members of the club were told by state engineers that the water level of Illinois is gradually lowering and refuses for game destroyed.
